

A Home Is Where Someone Lives

A home is where a person lives. One person may live in a home, or two or more people may share a home. There are many kinds of homes.

This is a picture of an apartment building. Many people call an apartment “home.” It’s their home because it’s where they live.

These are pictures of mobile homes. Many people call a mobile home “home.” It’s their home because it’s where they live.

These are pictures of townhouses. Many people call a townhouse “home.” It’s their home because it’s where they live.

These are pictures of houses. Many people call a house “home.” It’s their home because it’s where they live.

A home is where someone lives. My name is _____
These are photos of me and my home! This is where I live!