

From One Home to Another. This Is Okay.

Sometimes people need another home. This family has a home in Fairbanks, Alaska. Mom's job will be in Hawaii soon. The family needs to find another home in...

Hawaii. This is okay.

This family is going to add twin babies soon. They need a...

bigger home. This happens a lot. Families often add more children and need another home.

My name is _____. This is a picture of my home.
It's an apartment. My family needs to find another home because _____. We're shopping for a house for our next home.

Our next home may look a little like one of these houses.

Or, I may draw a picture with my ideas for our next home. When we find our next home...

I may place a photo or a drawing of it here! It's my choice. Someday, we may need another home again. If we do, I may add another page and home to this Story.
