

What's in the Gift from Jackson's Grandpa?

Jackson is eight years old today! His grandpa arrives for dinner with a birthday gift wrapped in plain paper with a colorful bow. The gift wrap keeps Jackson from knowing for sure what's inside; he's hoping for a truck. Jackson may open his gifts after dinner. What's in this gift?

The only person who knows for sure what is in Jackson's gift is his grandpa. He bought the gift, and choosing what to buy was his decision.

Jackson and his grandpa sometimes go camping or fishing together. Grandpa may have decided to buy Jackson fishing tackle or something else.

Dinner is over. It's time for Jackson to open his gift. Everyone in his family is watching Jackson unwrap his gift. Jackson is about to learn that his Grandpa decided to get him...

a truck! Jackson is a little surprised! He loves trucks but couldn't decide which one he liked best. Jackson thinks this one is great!

There are many things that Jackson might say to his grandpa. He might say, "Thank you, Grandpa!" or "I really wanted a truck!" There are other things for Jackson to say after receiving this gift, like...

1. _____

2. _____

3. _____